BLP to consider contracts

MARQUETTE — The Marquette Board of Light and Power has scheduled a special meeting today to consider engineering and construction contracts for its new electric generating facility. The meeting is at 5:30 p.m. at the BLP's offices at 2200 Wright St. in Marquette.

Water quality issues temporary

MARQUETTE — Marquette city officials said a recent project to replace filters at the Marquette Water Filtration Plant has led customers to report water quality issues, but there are no health risks associated with the situation. A small number of customers have reported water quality problems, including odor, taste and air entrainment giving the water a fizzy appearance. City officials said the problems have been associated with the type of work done at the plant, which consisted of replacing 720 microfiltration membrane modules. Testing has been completed to confirm that other significant water quality data is within acceptable limits, according to the press release.

Board meeting rescheduled

MARQUETTE — The Marquette County Board meeting scheduled for Wednesday has been rescheduled for next Tuesday. The board meets at 6 p.m. in room 203 of the Henry A. Skewis Courthouse Annex.

Phone scams reported across the region

By KELSIE THOMPSON
Journal Staff Writer

MARQUETTE — A large number of local residents have reported attempted phone scams, with callers claiming to be from the Internal Revenue Service and local power companies, including the Marquette Board of Light and Power.

Michigan State Police at several Upper Peninsula posts and the Marquette City Police Department reported increased phone scam attempts Monday.

The state police said in a press release that callers claiming to be from the IRS are using fear and intimidation tactics or threats of arrest in an attempt to obtain credit card or bank account information.

Detective Capt. Mike Kohler of the city police said the scammers claiming to be from the BLP or other local power companies are threatening to turn off power if a payment is not made.

If such a phone call is received, local law enforcement officials recommend residents don't give out personal or financial information, and hang up the phone and report the scam to the Federal Trade Commission, using the "FTC Complaint Assistant" at FTC.gov.

If it's known that taxes are not owed, the incident should be reported to the treasury inspector general of tax administration at 1-800-366-4484.

Local group to discuss 'dark stores' in Lansing

By KELSIE THOMPSON
Journal Staff Writer

MARQUETTE — Several local officials are making the nearly 400 mile trek from Marquette to Lansing this week to present information on the dark store issue to the Tax Policy Committee of the Michigan House.

County Administrator Scott Erbisch said he and others will vie for time in front of the committee during a 90-minute hearing Wednesday morning on large-scale commercial single use building property tax assessment.

"We're really pleased to have this opportunity to start engaging in a dialogue with Lansing lawmakers," Erbisch said. "It's not simply a U.P. or Marquette County issue ... this is statewide issue."

Parties from both sides of the issue from throughout the state are expected to attend, Erbisch said.

Although the Tax Policy Committee will eventually consider House Bill 4909 — a measure that would prevent business owners from placing deed restrictions on their properties — sponsored by state Rep. John Kivela, D-Marquette, it will not be discussed at the hearing on Wednesday.

"(The Tax Policy Committee) doesn't want to specifically discuss the bills that have been proposed," said Amy Clickner, CEO of the Lake Superior Community Partnership. "They want to better understand the broader issue of dark stores."

Clickner said she wants to convey the severity of the issue to the committee.

"There's a place for all types of businesses of all sizes, but the tax landscape has to be fair and equitable," she said. "At the end of the day, the issue we're dealing with, with the dark stores, doesn't leave a fair playing field with large national retailers and small mom and pop stores."

Deborah Veiht, an LSCP board member and superintendent for Marquette Alger Regional Education Service Agency, also plans to attend the hearing to speak out on behalf of education and school services.

to Michigan Tax Tribunal appeals.

"Our voters voted 2 mills countywide to support special education students in our schools," she said. "It's a fabulous thing they've done, but what's happening with big box stores is it's eroding the monies we've received. ... If we lose that much money, it's less that we can do for our families and our local school districts."

By sharing information on the impacts already seen in Marquette County, Erbisch said he hopes the committee will move forward with the legislation presented by Kivela and state Sen. Tom Casperon, R-Escanaba. "We hope to continue the dialogue to the point where we'll be able to see some legislation going forward that will help curb the issue," Erbisch said. "In my opinion, the ultimate goal is for a legislative fix to help reduce the impact of the dark stores with the two bills already out there."

Clickner said she'd like to see Kivela's bill go before the committee before the end of the year.

"We would love to see a vote around this before the end of the year, but I'm not convinced that's going to happen ... it's going to take a lot of heavy lifting," she said. "With energy and tax policy on the front burner and only a dozen days or so of session left, its going to be tough to get it done this year, but we're not going to back away from a fight."
